Brotherhood of Engineers
Officials Are Charged With Misuse by Waycross Men.

PLAN TO EXPEL MEMBERS CHECKED

Restraining Order Halts
Expulsion of Accusers;
Hearing Set for February 11.

Waycross, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A fight which is expected to determine, eventually, if national officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are guilty of misusing approximately $14,000,000 of the organization's funds was projected in Wayne superior court here today.

Judge J. D. Black granted a temporary restraining order halting R. E. Edrington, of Cleveland, Ohio, assistant grand chief engineer of the organization from expelling three Waycross men and revoking the charter of the local chapter.

Edrington's alleged reason for planning to fire these three men, who are George Hall, W. P. Carey and J. W. Kirkland, is that on January 11 they mailed to each member of the order a letter charging that the grand officers had exceeded their authority in contracting liabilities amounting to about $14,000,000.

The letter, the local men said, was mailed following the announcement of a plan to assess each member of the order $120 to make up the deficiency in the treasury. The letter declared that the officials, and not the members, were responsible for these liabilities and therefore must pay them without aid from within the body.

The charges include handling of the Brotherhood bank, the formation of subsidiary institutions, actions of interlocking directorates and investments in Florida, of which the last mentioned involved the largest loss.

Edrington came to Waycross Tuesday night, invested with full authority to expel the offending members and to revoke the charter of the local chapter. The three men slated to be expelled say that Edrington made known his plans, which were to be carried through at a meeting set for today at 9 o'clock.

These men, realizing that without membership in the organization they would be unable to fight, obtained, early Wednesday morning, the restraining order, and had it served on Edrington before he had time to take action. Final hearing on the order is to be held here Saturday, February 11.

INVESTIGATION AUTHORIZED.

Cleveland, Ohio, February 1.—(Special.)—R. E. Edrington, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who was enjoined from ousting members of the Waycross, Ga., unit and revoking its charter, had been authorized by the grand

STATE SECRETARY MCLENDON WORSE; DEATH IS FEARED

Colonel S. G. McLendon, secretary of state of Georgia, Wednesday night was reported to be in an extremely critical condition at his suite in the Henry Grady hotel. Members of his family have been summoned.

For more than a week the condition of Colonel McLendon has been considered serious, the result of a severe influenza attack suffered just before Christmas.

Physicians Wednesday night expressed the fear that unless his condition registered sharp improvement, the secretary would not live 24 hours.

U. S. and France To Sign New Pact For Peace Monday

Final Agreement on Arbitration Terms Received at State Department
From Paris.

TREATY FORWARDS WORLD PEACE CAUSE

Voices Mutual Hope for Day When All Governments Will Forever
Abandon War.

Washington, February 1.—(Special.)—The new Franco-American arbitration pact, embodying a declaration against war as an instrument of national policy, will be signed next Monday, the sesqui-centennial of the first treaty entered into between the two republics.

Word of the final agreement on terms of the new treaty reached the state department from Paris late today. It means fulfillment of the original French desire for signature of the new peace pact on the anniversary day although the Root arbitration treaty it will replace does not expire until February 27.

It represents also a beginning, on the making over of all American arbitration treaties in the light of the pilot Franco-American pledge of continuing friendship into what the Washington administration believes will be a strengthened American contribution to the cause of world peace.

The anti-war declaration is contained in the preamble to the new treaty and is described, since it has never been made public in text, as a mutual expression of hope that a day will come when war can be abandoned by all governments in favor of peaceful settlement of disputes.

The articles of the treaty, however, commit the two countries to submit to arbitration on formulae to be approved by the senate in each case so far as the United States is concerned, any dispute that cannot be disposed of by diplomatic negotiation and which does not touch on domestic issues, affect the interests of at third state or involve the Monroe doctrine.

As framed at the state department and presumably as approved in Paris.

COUNTY CONTESTS GEORGIA GAS LEVY

Right of State To Collect
4-Cent Tax From County To Be Decided in Court.

The state's right, under the new four-cent gasoline sales tax, to collect on gasoline purchased by Fulton county, will be contested, it was decided Wednesday at a meeting of county commissioners.

Following the session, County Attorney Charles B. Shelton announced that he would file suit to enjoin Comptroller General William A. Wright from collecting the levy.

The sales tax, which went into effect on adjournment of the last legislature, would impose approximately $1,000 monthly on Fulton county, Mr. Shelton said.

The county will contend that the Georgia constitution, which specifically sets forth cases for which the taxpayers' money may be paid out, makes no provision for levies by the state on county-owned property, Mr. Shelton said.

The boy was turned over to Judge Camille Keller, of the city juvenile court, pending investigation of his family. His home is in Oakland, Cal. While held at police station the boy told the story of their wanderings which ended in capture today.

Questioned by Police Inspector Will Griffin and newspapermen, young Dodge spun a tale of confused ideas and dreams, and of childish innocence. The adopted daughter of a wealthy Aurora couple, Miss Anderson became obsessed with the idea that she was an unwelcome burden to her foster parents, and wished to remove responsibility for herself, he said. She planned to become a nurse.

Their immediate objective was Galveston, Texas, where the girl, a talented musician, expected to find conservatory employment, helping to support him while he completed his high school education, preparatory to entering the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the boy said. He planned to study aeronautical engineering or forestry.

They had no definite plan to marry, he told his questioners. Authorities were convinced that there had been no misconduct between the couple, they announced.

After leaving Aurora Saturday night, the two took a train for Galesburg, Ill., changing for St. Louis and sleeping in a day coach. From there they went by train to Cape Girardeau, Mo., hiking to Benton, where they arrived late Sunday night. Monday they traveled by bus to Blytheville, Ark., changed to another bus and reached Memphis.

They spent Monday night in a railroad station. Tuesday the girl became ill, their money had given out and they wired for help to friends in Aurora, leading to their capture.

Dodge, who said he was the son of a minister, spent most of the day in prayer. Miss Anderson was on the verge of nervous collapse and could not be questioned.

LITTLE ENTENTE CHARGES HUNGARY AS GUN SMUGGLER

League Asked to Investigate Hungarian Armaments After Effort to Import Machine Guns.

Geneva, Switzerland, February 1.—(Special.)—The little entente powers today officially laid before the League of Nations an alleged attempt of Hungary recently to import 2,000 machine guns. The powers—Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania—asked the league council to order an investigation into Hungarian armaments.

The arms recently seized on the Austro-Hungarian frontier in the city of St. Gothard are alleged to have come from an Italian firm and the Hungarians have stated that they were en route to Poland. Poland disclaimed the purchase and the little entente now maintains that the arms were destined for Hungary in violation of the treaty of Trianon, which limits Hungarian armaments.

In its communication Jugo-Slavia asserted that the St. Gothard incident was calculated "seriously to shake public confidence in the real value of international treaties."

The Rumanian note which was drafted subsequent to the visit of Foreign Minister Titulesco, of Rumania, to Rome, is regarded as more cautious in tone and is interpreted in league circles as framed to hurt the feelings of no nation, including Italy.

The note says that while for the moment no real conflict has arisen "and without wishing to accuse or suspect any one whatever," Rumania desires to invoke the obligation of the league council to intervene and take measures authorized in the treaty of Trianon after the world war concerning the military control of Hungary.

Hungary has been notified that the controversy has been placed on the agenda of the March session of the council. By a majority vote the council can order an investigation, if the commission of inquiry should find that Hungary has violated the treaty, the council then will have to decide what steps to take against Hungary.

Idyll of Hope Told by Pair Found at "Y"

Young Couple, Missing Four Days, on Pilgrimage of Childish Innocence.

Memphis, Tenn., February 1.—(Special.)—The adventure of Marjorie Anderson, 17, and Stephen Dodge, 16, who ran away from Aurora college, Aurora, Ill., last Saturday, ended tonight when authorities released the girl to Dr. R. O. Jenks, president of Aurora college, who will take her home tomorrow night.

The boy was turned over to Judge Camille Keller, of the city juvenile court, pending investigation of his family. His home is in Oakland, Cal. While held at police station the boy told the story of their wanderings which ended in capture today.

Questioned by Police Inspector Will Griffin and newspapermen, young Dodge spun a tale of confused ideas and dreams, and of childish innocence. ## HOOVER CHOICE OF PRESIDENT, SIGNS INDICATE

Politicians Believe Coolidge Prefers Hoover
Succeed His Administration.

DISCREET COOLIDGE LIPS ARE SILENT

Resignation From Cabinet Not Expected by Friends of Secretary Before Convention.

Washington, February 1.—(United News.)—The deduction of a good many politicians here is that President Coolidge will do nothing to hamper the movement to put Herbert Hoover into the white house.

So far as is known, nothing has passed the discreet lips of the president to indicate that he will take any active part for or against Hoover. It would be against his nature and his attitude toward his office to interfere directly in the party's choice of his successor. But a number of circumstances have given many to think that the president is at least willing that Hoover should have the benefit of his role as part of the Coolidge administration while seeking the nomination.

Following some speculative reports that Hoover is about to resign from the cabinet to wage his pre-convention campaign, a close friend of the secretary of commerce said emphatically that there will be no resignation before the campaign.

The white house said yesterday that President Coolidge has heard nothing indicating that "President Hoover" to use the actual words that slipped out—had any intention of resigning.

These two developments indicate to most politicians that Hoover understands he is welcome to remain in the cabinet while his campaign for the nomination goes on. There is precedent for this. Charles E. Hughes resigned from the United States supreme court until after he had been nominated in 1916. William H. Taft remained as secretary of state until a few days before the convention when he unsuccessfully opposed President Harrison for re-election.

Another circumstance is that many high officials of the administration are working actively for Hoover's nomination with no sign that they have incurred the disfavor of the white house. Secretary of Interior Work, in fact, is the chief of the Hoover campaign and is expected by many to become campaign manager if Hoover is nominated.

Assistant Attorney General Donovan, of New York, the man who carried a good deal of the burden for Attorney General Sargent, one of Coolidge's most intimate friends, is active for Hoover. Undersecretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman are active for Hoover. Postmaster General New and Secretary of Agriculture J. C. Brannan are regarded as extremely friendly to Hoover, though they have made no formal statements. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is understood to be friendly.

Fascisti Told By Mussolini To Expect War

"Many Hate Us, Both as Italy and Fascists," Says
Il Duce.

BY FRANK REA.
United News Staff Correspondent.

Rome February 1.—The entire Italian citizenry will receive military training and the fascist militia will become part of the regular Italian army in time of war, Premier Benito Mussolini said today upon the fifth anniversary of the founding of the militia.

Addressing 400 militiamen, high officials representing the army, navy, aviation and land officials, Il Duce told the fascist militia that he prepared for war because "many peoples in the world hate us, both as Italy and as the fascist regime."

The dictator wore the uniform of an honorary corporal. He received a tremendous ovation.

"The past five years," Mussolini began, "has shown that the militia, through maintaining its peculiar character, has become the big armed force of the fascist state. The militia's organization now is perfected; its equipment in rifles soon will be completed; its tasks are clearly defined."

"The militia is everywhere an armed guard against revolution, with a watchful eye for the regime."

CHAMPION FATHER
DENIED POOL ROOM
SITE ON LUCKIE ST.

Lee C. Gentle Wednesday night was denied the right to operate a pool room on Luckie street between Cone and Spring streets by the police commission of city council.

Mr. Gentle is the father of 29 children, and recently was presented to President Coolidge at the white house as the nation's champion. At that time there were only 28 children in the family, but another has since arrived.

In declining to permit him to operate the pool room, the committee declared it was no reflection on the applicant, but because of a petition signed by every tenant in the block objecting to the establishment of a billiard parlor in the block.

Mr. Gentle has operated a pool room near the Forsyth street viaduct for the past three years, and sought the new location as "more desirable." He will continue at his present place of business or seek other quarters, having decided to abandon his plan of moving on the Luckie street block.

COUPLE CONFESS HUSBAND SLAYING; GET LIFE TERMS

Mrs. Essie Jowers and Elisha Swift Face Prison Life.

Homer, La., February 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. Essie Jowers and J. Elisha Swift tonight were en route to the state penitentiary at Baton Rouge, where they were sentenced here today to spend the remainder of their lives for murdering J. F. Jowers, husband of the woman and former minister.

The sentence was imposed by Judge John S. Richardson after they had entered pleas of guilty without capital punishment. They pleaded not guilty when the trial began Monday.

They were on trial for killing Jowers on the night of October 31 while he slept in his home at Haynesville, near here. In confession Swift admitted hitting the victim on the head with a sledge hammer and Mrs. Jowers said she held a light to guide the fatal blow. The state alleged that Jowers was put to death so that his wife and Swift might continue their love affair unmolested.

When they started for the penitentiary Mrs. Jowers left behind five children and Swift four. The man is 43 years old and the woman 33. Mrs. Swift also was left behind.

The plea came with dramatic suddenness while a sanity hearing was in progress to determine whether the man and woman were sane. After a long conference between state and defense attorneys and members of the lunacy commission appointed by the court defense attorneys announced their clients were ready to plead guilty without capital punishment.

Judge Richardson accepted the plea and immediately sentenced the defendants. While this was being done Mrs. Jowers looked at the floor and Elisha and Swift appeared unmoved.

The lunacy commission earlier in the day had recommended to District Attorney C. D. Goff that a plea of guilty without capital punishment be accepted. The commission said it made the recommendation "after having evaluated moral and ethical aspects of the case and given due consideration to the protection of society through the majesty of the law."

McAdoo Launches ATTACK ON SMITH Governor On Prohibition Enforcement De- clared Bar to Presidency

Attitude Of New York
Governor On Prohibition Enforcement Declared Bar to Presidency

Richmond, Va., February 1.—(Special.)—The attitude of Governor Alfred E. Smith toward prohibition enforcement was directly challenged here tonight by William G. McAdoo in a speech sounding a rallying cry against the election of any "wet" to the presidency.

Making his first public utterance on the subject since Governor Smith's nomination assumed its present proportions, Mr. McAdoo contradicted some of his old rival's recent statements, declared the "liquor interests" had captured political power both in New York and in Maryland, and argued that to expect prohibition enforcement from a president hostile to prohibition was "upon its face an absurdity." He said the issue was one that must be fought "to a conclusion" in the campaign of 1928.

"The supreme need is to put law enforcement in the white house," said Mr. McAdoo. "Attempt is being made to convince the country that no matter if a wet is elected president, the constitution and laws will be enforced. This is both unsound and untrue."

The white house in the hands of the liquor interests would be a veritable Gibraltar of offensive operations and the doom of the eighteenth amendment would be written on boldly upon the face of the constitution.

Twice Candidate.

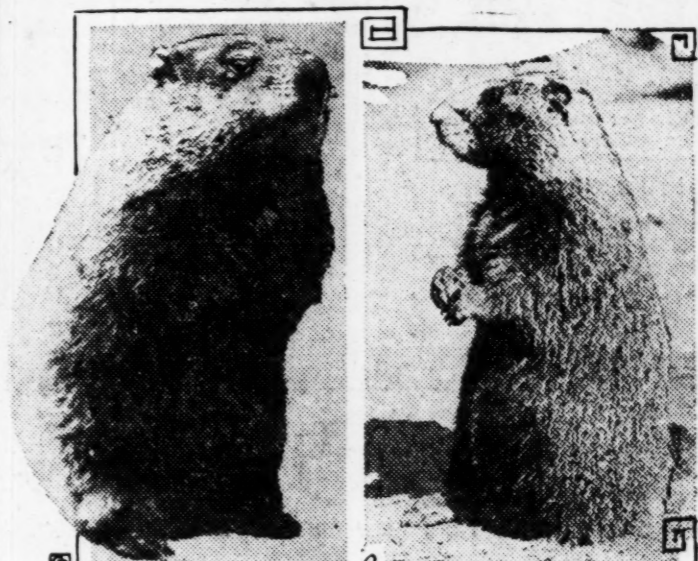

The former treasury secretary, twice a formidable candidate for the nomination of his party, made no reference to his own political fortunes or to his previous statement that he would "stand aside" in 1928. He made no personal allusions except to Governor Smith, although he did link the law enforcement situation in New York with that in Maryland, where governor, Albert C. Ritchie, also is in the running for the democratic nomination.

Mr. McAdoo spoke at a law enforcement meeting at Richmond gathered for an audience gathered from the borderland of the dry democratic south. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon league.

Mr. Groundhog Makes 1928 Emergence Today

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
Well, well, folks, here's our old friend Mr. Ground Hog set to hop out today and tell us what kind of weather we are going to have for the next six weeks.

Some people depend on the weather man to find out about the weather. Some depend on their rheumatism. Some predict weather on state of irritation of their corns and bunions. Still others use goose bones, Grier's almanac and rusty weather vane but all good Georgia Crackers put infallible faith in the ground hog. If he steps out today and sees his shadow the winter will last six more weeks of winter. If he does not see his shadow he will sneak out in search of head lettuce, turnip greens and other provender and we can lay a little side bet to the effect that winter is through, and gone and we can go out and plant our early June peas.

We disciples of the ground hog are not at all trusting souls. We believe in the efficacy of liver pads and electric belts. We believe the patent medicine advertisement when it says no cure no pay. We believe in the ads which say we can guess the mis-ing letters in NW YRK, meaning the largest city in the United States, and win $1,000 in gold. We believe what the democratic candidates say, believe the Anti-Saloon league workers are working for a cause and not for cash and believe four out of five have halitosis because there's not a cough in a carload.

So let the weather sharks piddle around with their high pressure belts, their velocities of winds, their barometers, compasses, spark plugs, hand-saws, test tubes, super-tetrodus and rheostats. They can use all their instruments and predict all kinds of weather, but away with them, say we, as long as we have Mr. Ground Hog.

After today the flapper will know whether to continue to wear low neck dresses and short skirts of the winter months or whether to don their summer furs and goloshes. Farmers are waiting to know about their planting, the ball players are waiting to warm up the old soup bones. The tent shows are waiting for the hand to play and the general public is waiting with that general public usually waits on anything unusual.

So hurry out Mr. Ground Hog and relieve the suspense.

STRESEMANN ASKS FRENCH SYMPATHY

German Minister Asks Lifting of "Rhineland Iron Curtain" for International Friendship.

Berlin, February 1.—(Special.)—Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany today declared that all parties in the German cabinet including the nationalists advocate a policy of Franco-German understanding and made an appeal to France to do her share to make this policy possible.

"I have demanded evacuation of the Rhineland again and again in order thereby to make possible real conciliation and active cooperation between these two peoples," Dr. Stresemann told the reichstag in a speech closing the two-day debate on the foreign office budget.

"There are no people which has as much to lose as we have."

Drink Stands Are Warned On Drug Sales

Law Bars Sales Except in Original and Unbroken Packages.

Soda fountains and drink stands in Atlanta and over the state have been given warning by A. M. Stead, chief drug inspector of the state of Georgia, that it is against the state law to sell family medicines except in original and unbroken packages. From this time on those violating this law will be prosecuted, he stated.

A law covering the sale of medicines has been in operation in Georgia for many years, but never has been strictly enforced, it is said. At the last meeting of the legislature the law was amended, all provisions to become effective August 20, 1927.

Owing to the fact that the state is handicapped by its small force of inspectors, there has been a long delay

GRUESOME STORY OF CRIME RETOLD AT SANITY TRIAL

Hickman Strangled Girl
Because She Cried and
He Feared Exposure in Kidnaping.

DETAILED HORRORS DON'T MOVE YOUTH

Other Witnesses Testify
To Belief That Boy, 20 Years Old Today, Is Insane.

Hall of Justice, Los Angeles, February 1.—(Special.)—William E. Hickman's confession of the kidnaping, killing and mutilation of 12-year-old Marian Parker was written into the evidence today at his sanity trial.

The 19-page confession made by the youth on a train carrying him back to Los Angeles after his arrest in Oregon was read by Jerome Walsh, chief defense attorney, after Dick Lucas, a detective and the first defense witness, had related the story of the crime to which Hickman has pleaded "not guilty by reason of insanity." The confession was a repetition of previously published accounts of the crime.

After being kept in captivity two days by Hickman, Marian cried and Hickman became "afraid she would tumble me up with the police." Detectives Lucas said he had admitted. Hickman then tied her to a chair and strangled her. A few hours after the killing Hickman went to a show.

The newspaper-wrapped parts of the dismembered body were thrown in Elgin park about dusk. Lucas continued, relating also how Hickman said he met Parker that Saturday night to turn over the torso for the $1,500.

"I sure needed that money," Hickman was quoted as commenting, "and I was going to take the chance as things were getting hot."

Relating to Hickman's cashing one of the numbered $20 ransom bills in a cafeteria that night, Lucas quoted Hickman:

"I'd sure like to see that girl cashier. I bet she got a thrill when she learned it was me."

Hickman was quoted by the witness as declaring he was sitting up in bed when the police searched the apartment house Sunday morning.

"The money was behind the wall ironing board," Hickman said. "I seemed to be looking for towels, but they didn't take any of mine."

Lucas quoted Hickman's relation of his packing up then, stealing the green Hudson automobile in Hollywood, holding up the owner, and of fleeing to San Francisco and Seattle.

In Seattle, after cashing a $20 bill at a haberdashery, whom Hickman said "knew me," he told Lucas he went to a show and the next day drove back to Oregon, where he was captured.

Lucas testified this confession was taken by continual questioning on the trail while returning the prisoner

UNUSUAL WEATHER CONDITIONS MARK OPENING OF 1928

January was both a normal and an abnormal month, according to the monthly report of C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist. The weather man explained this paradox by stating that the mean conditions for the month were normal, but that the month played an unusual trick by jumps from as low as 1 degree of temperature to a maximum of 72.

The greatest daily range in temperature was 31 degrees on the 20th, while the least daily range was 5 degrees on the 8th. The mean temperature for the month was 42.6 degrees, exactly normal, while the mean precipitation was 2.83 inches, or a deficiency of 2.11 inches for the month. There were no frosts, hail, sleet or thunderstorms during the month.

TO CONSTRUCT NEW MARINE BARRACKS AT QUANTICO, VA.

Washington, February 1.—Plans and specifications for the construction of the marine base at Quantico, Va., of the first group of three barracks to cost about $2,205,000, have been completed. The way department announced today that the contract would be let about March 20. The barracks will house 1,500 men.

Submarine Used By Rum Hustlers To Delude Guard

Savannah, Ga., February 1.—(AP)—Something new under the water, and decidedly novel in local rum-running circles, was brought to light here last week when a coast guard patrol boat towed into port a contraband liquor container in form of a steel "submarine" about 40 feet long and capable of carrying hundreds of quarts of the forbidden fluid, the device being designed to be "hauled" under water by a power boat.

The curious vessel was described as being about five feet in diameter and cylindrical in shape, with two cone-shaped ends tapering almost to a point. Projecting from each end was a handle for attaching a line by which to tow the under-water cargo. A singular circular hatch on the vessel, fastened on with bolts and nuts, furnished access to the interior. Empty, the "submarine" floats on the surface of the water, but freighted with a load of liquor and any water needed for additional weight, it would be submerged so as to be towed along out of sight, coast guard officers said. If hard pressed by coast guard vessels, the rum-runners could cut loose from the craft and later come back for it.

The "submarine" as found concealed near the bend of a creek which empties into the Julian river about 50 miles north of Brunswick on the inland water route, the patrolling officers said.

Chicago Police Find No Chance To Use Their Machine Guns

Detective Sergeant August B. Barbour, of Chicago, left Atlanta Wednesday night to carry Luther Mitchell, Atlanta negro, back to Chicago to answer to a charge of murdering Henry Thomas, negro, last November. Speaking of conditions in Chicago, Sergeant Barbour said that civil rum gangs introduced the machine gun in their warfare in the Illinois city, and that the police were forced to adopt the rapid firing weapon as a "side arm" in self-defense. Police of each district are armed with machine guns, but do not get much chance to use them because gang warfare is almost at a standstill, he said.

CARRANZA'S SON REBEL SUSPECT, GOES TO CUBA

Havana, February 1.—(AP)—General Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of former President Carranza of Mexico, whose name had been mentioned as one of the leaders of the recently frustrated Gomez-Serrano revolt, is now in Cuba. General Aguilar, who is a former chief of staff, said that the Mexican authorities had not hindered his departure. He refused to comment on the Gomez-Serrano rebel movement.

$550,000 SPAN BEGUN IN LONG

Doortown, Ga., February 1.—(AP)—Formal exercises attended by 500 people and including addresses by Chairman John N. Holder of the state highway board and other prominent Georgians, were held here today at the official start of construction on the $550,000 Doortown bridge spanning the Altamaha river between Wayne and Long counties.

Holder turned a few spadefuls of dirt at the bridge site, where the exercises were held, officially inaugurating work on the project. In his address he declared that the new span will be the longest bridge located entirely in Georgia, and the most expensive bridge project built by the highway board entirely within the state.

Timber, steel and concrete are the materials to be used, he said, and the length of the structure will be 6,957 feet. It is planned to have it completed during 1929, said Holder.

When this project is completed, the highway chairman declared, "it will remove the last great barrier and obstacle from Route 38, which extends from near Albany, Alabama, to near Savannah. This route is the longest east-west route within the state, and it is one of the greatest routes on the state aid system."

It traverses some of the most fertile lands in Georgia, some of the best farming fields of this state. . . . It begins at Albany, Alabama, and serves the following county seats: Donaldsonville, Bainbridge, Cairo, Thomasville, Quitman, Valdosta, Homerville, Waycross, Blackshear, Jetts, Ludlow, Hinesville and Savannah.

The mileage between Albany and the Savannah river bridge is 303.8 miles. The bridge, when paved, will be paved, 150 miles, leaving 154 miles to be constructed. It is planned either to pave the balance of Route 38 in 1929 or have the same under construction."

Money spent and yet to be spent, for bridges on this route exceeds that for any other highway in the state, it was said, there being already $80 bridges in use. Completion of the Doortown project will bring the total cost of the bridges to $2,300,000, Mr. Holder said.

IRELAND IS DESCRIBED FIELD FOR U. S. TRADE

New York, February 1.—(AP)—The Irish Free State as a country offering opportunity for Americans contemplating fresh fields for trade expansion was outlined today by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, at a luncheon in honor of William T. Cosgrave, Free State executive.

Mr. Farrell said that "there is room for both American capital and technical management in a country that has already given tangible proofs of stable and prosperous conditions."

As reasons for the increasing interest of Americans in the possibilities between Ireland and the United States he pointed to Ireland's balanced budget, reasonable economy, reorganization of agricultural and more modern lines, centralized marketing and "the confident assurance that the ship of state has weathered the gale and is now anchored in calm waters."

In the brief space of three years, he said, Mr. Cosgrave's government had brought order out of chaos.

Mr. Cosgrave, discussing his country's affairs, said the drawing up of a constitution was the first problem encountered. Since Ireland was a nation of poets, scholars and idealists, he said, it was natural that the bill of rights should contain many poetic terms "scarcely commensurate with modern conditions." Yet, he added, there had been very little alteration in the original document.

SCARLET FEVER AND BURNS CAUSE GRIGGS BOY'S DEATH

Funeral services for Harry H. Griggs, 5-year-old son of Mrs. J. J. Reynolds, of 2144 Rawson street, who died Tuesday at Grady hospital from burns, received a week ago, and complications brought about by an attack of scarlet fever, will be conducted this afternoon at the graveside in West View cemetery.

The boy, it is said, was locked in a coal shed in the rear of his home by some playmates older than himself, who are alleged to have set fire to the shed. The heroism of Florine Richardson, negro maid, saved the boy from being actually burned to death. Being the cries of the young maid, unable to break the lock on the shed, cried loudly a plank, and, after wrapping a wet cloth around her head, squeezed through and rescued the boy. She was severely burned about the head and body in the rescue.

The boy was taken to Grady hospital, and although he was badly burned, physicians declared that he would not die. Scarlet fever developed, causing the child's death Tuesday.

At the time of the accident, Mrs. Reynolds, mother of the boy, was confined at Georgia Baptist hospital, where, four days previously, she had given birth to a daughter.

Besides his mother and baby sister, Harry leaves a brother, James Griggs, and his step-father, J. J. Reynolds.

'CLEMENCY' HOLDUP INSIDE OF PRISON ENDED BY WARDEN

Little Rock, Ark., February 1.—(AP)—An alleged swindling traffic in unauthorized clemency within the walls of the penitentiary here was abruptly stopped, say officials of the prison when Ted A. Ferguson, an inmate, was returned to his place in the canteen from his former post as bookkeeper.

O. C. Cole, another prisoner, says the report, went to Warden S. L. Todd with the money, $290 of which he had returned. Cole's disclosure is believed to have come when the remainder was not forthcoming. Ferguson is serving a five-year term for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The machine was flown here today from Quantico, Va., to take advantage of the better fields at the naval air station for the take-off. It will carry 507 gallons of gasoline and two machine guns. The single stop will be made at Miami.

More Clouds, 10-Degree Drop Seen for Today

The ominous possibility of another six weeks of winter instead of an early spring faces Atlantans. It all depends upon what Mr. Groundhog does today.

The weather bureau said Tuesday that the groundhog will be able to see his shadow at noon today, but "of course," said C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist, "there's nothing in that old myth."

Increasing cloudiness is the forecast for today, but the weather bureau believes that the sky will be partially clear until early afternoon. Another 10-degree drop in temperature is expected this morning. The weather man said that the minimum this morning probably will be around 28 degrees, against Wednesday's minimum of 39 degrees.

The maximum Wednesday was 49, while today's maximum is expected to be at least 55 degrees.

Eleven Experts To Review Plans For City Hall

Eleven expert office building owners, operators and designers will pass, February 13 and 14, on plans for a new city hall for Atlanta, it was announced Wednesday by Fred Shaefer, secretary of the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Five sets of blue prints were mailed Wednesday to the members who will come from out of the city in order that they may have an opportunity of "scrubbing" them before the review opens officially at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Out of town members will include Earl Shultz, of Chicago, chairman; W. M. Malm, Cleveland; William B. Baker, Buffalo, and L. R. Ermeling, Chicago, executive secretary of the building planning service of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Local members of the board will be C. F. Palmer, chairman of the local association; A. W. Candler, C. E. Wilkinson, W. A. Jones, W. T. Weekley and Mr. Shaefer.

G. Lloyd Preacher is the architect for the new structure which will cost approximately $1,100,000. A corps of draftsmen is busy completing details and these will be ready for the commission when it arrives.

Costes and Le Brix will visit the United States in a few days, landing first in New Orleans, and then proceeding northward to New York.

After reaching Washington, they may attempt a non-stop flight between Washington and Mexico City over the 2,100-mile route Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh blazed in December.

"I greatly appreciate President Coolidge's action in ordering escort planes from Washington to meet us at the border," Le Brix said.

They left Paris by air October 10, and since their special flight across the Atlantic have visited several countries in South America before turning northward to the United States.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO PEGGY MARSH

London, February 1.—(AP)—Peggy Marsh, the London chorus girl, who as a result of a war-time romance with Henry Field, Jr., grandson of Marshall Field, Chicago merchant, became involved in litigation over the Field estate, has been granted a divorce.

The petition was granted Monday in the London divorce court. It was filed in the name of Mrs. Annabel Bertha Fenwick, who was a widow at the time of her marriage in January, 1925, to Keld Robert George Fenwick, of Witham Hall, Bourne, Lincolnshire. She charged her husband with misconduct at a hotel in Southampton. The suit was not defended and the court granted a decree nisi.

Peggy Marsh in 1915 met Henry Field, Jr., and a romance followed which lasted a year. Afterward he married Miss Nancy Perkins, a niece of the Langhorne sisters of Virginia. He died in June, 1917.

Miss Marsh brought suit in 1919 against the Field estate for her son, Henry Anthony Marsh, who was conceded to be a natural son of Henry Field. Two years later the supreme court of Illinois decided against the lady's claim on the ground that the will specifically excluded illegitimate offspring from inheritance. She did receive, however, $100,000 in the settlement of Henry Field's estate.

Miss Marsh married Albert L. Johnson, a nephew of the late Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, at Greenwich, Conn., on January 6, 1921. He died in New York in 1924.

After the war Essex was left with ponderous thoughts on the futility of strife and on his civil role of freedom. He returned to the farm, near Huntsville, and later became janitor in the postoffice here during the postmaster-ship of Captain Joseph McGhee.

Later he returned to his tilling. Following his removal to Birmingham Essex came back to visit some of his scattered relations. His battle against the years, however, was near an end and he died on the trip.

Amateur Radio Invention :: NEWEST ACCESSORY IS CALLED "RAY-PHOTO" :: Produces Lindbergh Photo

Newark, N. J., February 1.—(AP)—Four minutes from the time the trident notes of a phonograph came screaming out of the broadcasting studio of WOR at Kearney, N. J., a photograph of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was developed in a New York office.

The picture sounds were first transmitted to the phonograph record in a similar manner to that in which VLAJ last week broadcast the photo of Mayor James J. Walker, and the sounds were then broadcast in the regular manner. The broadcasting required three minutes and it took one minute to develop the picture at New York.

The invention, known as the "Ray-Photo," is the work of Austin G. Cooley, of Seattle.

The inventor says his apparatus is intended for amateur use, so with these parts attached to his regular receiving set the radio fan could sit at home and receive pictures of news events along with the news bulletins.

Twenty-five receiving sets were installed for the tests at WOR. Some as far away as upstate New York. In continuation of its experiments WOR will broadcast pictures every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, beginning at 8:10 a. m.

ALABAMA SLAVE, Fought in Ranks Of South, Dies

Huntsville, Ala., February 1.—(Special)—Essex Lewis, a negro slave, who fought against those who sought to emancipate him in the civil war and lived to the rare old age of 106, died here today.

He worked a truck farm near here until a short time ago when a son, who had gone to Birmingham and was doing well, took the centenarian with him to the colored capital of Alabama.

Essex Lewis was born a slave in Morgan county, a chattel of the widely known Lewis family. During the civil war he was taken into Virginia, and expressing a desire to resist the invaders of the land of his masters, was allowed to join the army of Virginia under Captain Cam Patterson.

After the war Essex was left with ponderous thoughts on the futility of strife and on his civil role of freedom. He returned to the farm, near Huntsville, and later became janitor in the postoffice here during the postmaster-ship of Captain Joseph McGhee.

Later he returned to his tilling. Following his removal to Birmingham Essex came back to visit some of his scattered relations. His battle against the years, however, was near an end and he died on the trip.

At a recent meeting the commission also placed on the 1928 schedule the widening and grading of Courtland street from Forrest to North avenue; widening and repaving of Peachtree street from Peachtree to Spring street and the concreting of Ashby street near the Gordon intersection.

A memorial to the late Charles G. Turner, former member of the board, whose death occurred some weeks ago, was read and ordered placed on the records of the meeting.

The commission contributed $150 a month for 1928 to the United States Naval Reserve unit here; voted a $25 monthly increase in the $24 allowance to the Holmes Institute and agreed to grade and improve the Tech High school athletic field, at Boulevard and Tenth street.

Edwin Johnson, chairman of the present commission, who is running a position of Fulton county tax receiver to succeed William H. Abbott, who will not offer, made the promise that county officers would be placed at work again on the improvement projects as soon as weather conditions permit.

Stewart Will Give Aid. Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the commission, who is running a reelection, concurred in Mr. Johnson's promise and declared he would cooperate in every way possible to see that the work is carried forward as rapidly as possible.

"I wish to say that I consider Luckie street and Techwood drive two of the most important improvements in the city, and will see that workmen are placed again on the streets to complete the projects as soon as weather conditions permit," Mr. Johnson said in his address. "I am saying this as a campaign promise, I will do it whether you vote for me or not in my coming race. These streets should receive the immediate attention of the board."

Mr. Johnson's attitude regarding Luckie street and Techwood drive meets with approval and I shall be pleased to cooperate with him to see that they are prosecuted to completion at the earliest possible date," Mr. Stewart declared.

Captain George M. Hope, member of the commission who is seeking reelection, also favored immediate action on the improvements. He could not attend the meeting but later expressed himself as in favor of them.

Carlton W. Binns, solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta, who is running a full term, met his opponent, John S. McClelland, on the stump for the first time. Mr. Binns is an appointee of Governor Clifford Walker, who named him to succeed Roy Dorsey, when the latter resigned the post.

"We are offering the same efficient, courteous and sympathetic service which it has been our pleasure to render in the past," Mr. Binns stated. "We feel that we are entitled to a full term on the record we have made since taking office."

Mr. McClelland declared if elected he would institute a new system designed to increase efficiency of the court and one which would save time for witnesses and police officers.

Dr. A. H. Cochran and Sam D. Hewlett, who are opposing Mr. Stewart and Captain Hope for reelection, also appeared before the meeting making a bid for votes. Dr. Cochran formerly was mayor pro tem of the city of Atlanta while serving in city council as alderman from the second ward. He pointed out that his wide experience as a member of the finance committee of the city has fitted him for the position he seeks.

Mr. Hewlett stated he had no property to improve by means of paved roads and that he would give the county an economical, business-like administration.

Two Women Speak. Mrs. Eulalia Donohoe Manston, sister of Paul Donohoe, corner, and Mrs. J. R. Wakfield, former Atlanta school teacher, made a bid for votes for the position of county treasurer, a post now held by Miss Margaret Culbertson, who will not reoffer.

Alvin Richards spoke for Sheriff James L. Lowry, who is seeking the nomination for the fourth consecutive time. Mr. Lowry is opposed by A. M. Corrie, former railroad man.

Tull C. Waters represented Walter E. Harwell, who is opposing Mr. Johnson for the position of tax receiver. Mr. Waters pointed out that Mr. Harwell has served the city for the past eight years as city marshal.

Steve Glass, who has announced to succeed Mr. Harwell as city marshal subject to the city democratic primary, also spoke in the interest of his candidacy. Date of the city primary will be set at a meeting of the city democratic committee at the city hall February 9, according to announcement by J. P. Wall, chairman.

NEGRO WILL FACE DOUBLE MURDER CHARGE IN MISS.

Jackson, Miss., February 1.—(AP)—Green Kirk, negro, faced another charge of murder today following the death yesterday of Deputy Sheriff Earl Nunberry, of Simpson county, at d'Lo. The negro already stands charged with the killing of Marshal Hemby, of Magee.

Kirk is alleged to have shot and killed Marshal Hemby Sunday night near Magee when the officer attempted to halt him. Nunberry was wounded when he and several other officers chased the negro, who was captured early Monday.

Kirk was placed in jail at Mendon, Miss., Monday but was moved to Jackson when a mob formed after news was received in Mendon Hall of Marshal Hemby's death at d'Lo.

Sheriff's deputies eluded a mob en route to Jackson with the prisoner.

RUM RING CAUGHT WITH U. S. CODE

Boston, February 1.—(AP)—A private radio station on Cape Cod was one of the appurtenances of a rum-running ring which the government charges smuggled hundreds of cases of liquor ashore with the protection of coastguard men.

In outlining the case to a federal jury here, Assistant United States Attorney Hubert Thompson said that John Magnus, Boston, garage owner, had obtained by bribery confidential charts showing the position of coast guard patrol vessels and also the secret code used by the coast guard.

Magnus communicated to the rum shippers by means of his specially built radio station and thus enabled them to know the position of "unfriendly" patrol vessels, the attorney said.

Magnus is one of 11 defendants who went on trial. Five of the others were once members of the coast guard, including Carl G. Halvartz, of Winchester, former executive officer in charge of coast guard base 5, East Boston.

Halvartz was described as a "go-between" between Magnus and the skippers of rum row, and he was charged by Thompson with detailing patrol boats which protected the unloading of liquor cargoes.

Improvements carried over from 1927, and which will have preference, include grading and paving Luckie street from Bartow street to North avenue; grading and paving of Techwood drive from Harris street to North avenue; improvement of Peters street from Walker street to North avenue, and the widening of Stewart avenue.

At a recent meeting the commission also placed on the 1928 schedule the widening and grading of Courtland street from Forrest to North avenue; widening and repaving of Peachtree street from Peachtree to Spring street and the concreting of Ashby street near the Gordon intersection.

A memorial to the late Charles G. Turner, former member of the board, whose death occurred some weeks ago, was read and ordered placed on the records of the meeting.

Captain Donnellan Conquers Jinx; Reaches Atlanta on Good-Will Trip

A jinx which caused the postponement of his takeoff half a dozen times and then forced him to land in Tennessee under adverse weather conditions was finally conquered Wednesday by Captain Joseph Donnellan, Chicago "good-will" flier en route to South America, with his safe arrival in Atlanta.

Captain Donnellan was greeted at Candler field Wednesday afternoon by Charles F. Hoke, president of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club; Captain Charles McLain, of the department of commerce; L. O. Moseley, manager of the Ansley hotel, and other Atlantans. He will takeoff this morning for Havana, Cuba on the second leg of his 17,000-mile flight.

The "good-will" flight is being backed by a group of Chicago business men to demonstrate the practicability of long-distance flights in small, inexpensive planes. Captain Donnellan intends to visit a large number of the Latin American republics, and will carry greetings to the officials of the republics from Atlanta as well as from Chicago.

He was forced down Monday afternoon at Etowah, Tenn., and hopped off again Wednesday morning for Atlanta, making the short flight without further trouble.

Captain Donnellan was the guest of honor Wednesday night at a dinner given at the Ansley hotel by the Foreign Trade club, at which Mr. Hoke acted as toastmaster.

Donnellan made a short talk in which he told of his plans for the good-will trip and stated that he expected to make the trip within 45 days and that he would stop in Atlanta on his way to Detroit.

WARN DRINK STANDS ON SALES OF DRUGS

In enforcing the statute, Atlanta dealers were given warning some time ago, however, and in the past few days most of them have stopped the sale of various drinks of a medicinal nature, heretofore sold over the counter. A number of them, however, say that they have received no instructions to stop sales.

The new law provides that no person shall engage in compounding or vending of medicines, drugs or poisons within the state, except if such druggists as are exempted from operation of the present law by the statute of the state of Georgia and such druggists as have heretofore obtained license and are legally authorized by existing laws to compound and vend drugs, poisons and chemicals; second, physicians who are authorized to prepare and dispense medicines from their own offices. This law, it is set forth, is to be construed in the interest of public health and shall not prohibit the sale by merchants of home remedies, not poisons, or the sale by merchants of preparations commonly known as patent or proprietary preparations, when sold only in original and unbroken packages.

Drug stores and pharmacies which have complied with the state pharmacy laws and are licensed to mix drugs and prepare prescriptions are not affected by the law, Mr. Stead stated.

little interest in warlike complications and which, in the event of war, would so risk its very existence as Germany. The Locarno agreements were intended to clear the track for cooperation between all the nations concerned. Precisely because I wish that this idea of cooperation shall become the common property of the whole German people do I, who always fought for this policy, consider myself entitled to warn the French nation. "Do your share so this policy may become the common property of the German people."

Then raising his voice, Foreign Minister Stresemann made the plea to France.

"Raise the iron curtain in the Rhineland, which separates us, make it possible for an era of active cooperation and good will to ensue."

Richmond, Va., February 1.—(AP)—Nine days after she received a fractured skull in a mysterious manner, Miss Nancy Davison, young Richmond girl, was still unconscious but "making a game fight," physicians said today. She is breathing regularly and her pulse is strong.

CANDIDATES LISTED IN W. C. T. U. BOOK

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—A blue book of wet and dry candidates for public office was opened to entries today by the Woman's Christian Temperance union. Closing their two-day mid-western campaign conference, national officers of the W. C. T. U. sent out word that its organization, lieutenants in every state, county and precinct were to place every aspirant to office definitely on record as friend or foe of prohibition.

Under the plan of attack outlined today by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president, a resolution will be presented to every party leader from national chairman down to ward committeeman demanding the insertion of a plank in the party platform endorsing prohibition and pledging its enforcement through the appointment of its "unbiased friends" to power.

The crusade will be carried right up to the national nomination conventions of both parties, Mrs. Boole said. Mrs. Boole herself will submit the dry plank to the republican national convention, while Mrs. Nelle Burger, of Springfield, Mo., assistant recording secretary, will represent the W. C. T. U. at the democratic convention.

AIR LINE TO APPOINT
RESIDENT DIRECTOR

Appointment of an Atlanta business man as resident director of the recently organized Dixie Northern Air Line, operating a fleet of metal airplanes from Detroit to Miami, via this city, will be announced within the next 48 hours, according to William C. Wakefield, of Detroit, president of the corporation.

Chartered in Michigan with capital of $800,000, the Dixie Northern Air Line will furnish passenger service between Detroit and Miami, with an overnight hotel stop at Atlanta, and intermediate stops at Cincinnati, Lexington, Ky.; Knoxville, Chattanooga, Macon, Jacksonville, Tampa and Miami at a fare of approximately 14 cents a mile, Mr. Wakefield said.

The planes, which will be trimotor and built by the Ford Motor company, will be operated by Ford crews, the president of the organization explained, and will operate on a schedule which will place Atlanta within 7 1/2 hours of both Detroit and Miami.

A test flight of the proposed route was made during September, 1927. Mr. Wakefield pointed out, and the feasibility of such a line was proven at that time. Representatives of the concern are visiting the various points of call with a view to adopting means of improving airport service and comfort to passengers, especially transportation, refueling and weather forecast facilities.

Under the plans Atlanta will be the central terminal, with overnight hotel stops here for flying passengers, and motor conveyance will be arranged between Candler field and the downtown section.

Robbery Is Fixed
As Dacula Murder
Motive by Sikes

Lawrenceville, Ga., February 1.—(Special).—The motive for the murder of Jim Bennetfield, son of the late John Bennetfield, was fixed as a robbery by Sheriff Sikes today.

Joe Price, who was charged with the murder, confessed to the crime, and Sikes said that the motive was a robbery of $800 found on the farmer was divided equally between the trio.

The first confession was wrung from Joe Price by Sheriff McGee who used a Bible and a sermon: a his third degree method. Price implicated Gower and Sikes also implicated, Sikes also confessed, while Gower maintains innocence.

At a commitment hearing here Tuesday Gower was held over to await action of the Gwinnett county grand jury in March. Sikes and Price waived hearing. Following the hearing the bodies of the two men were taken to Atlanta for safe keeping.

PHILIP LEIDY, 13,
OF ATLANTA, WINS
IN PIANO CONTEST

Phillip Leidy, 13, an Atlanta boy, has been awarded third prize in the annual piano contest of New York city for 1927. It was learned in a letter made public Wednesday afternoon by his former teacher, Mrs. Daisy Cobb.

Young Leidy, who was the son of Charles C. Leidy, for many years professor for The Constitution, began the study of music under Mrs. Cobb little more than two years ago. He was presented with a bronze and silver medal in the New York metropolitan contest, ranking within half a point of winning the city championship, the letter related.

While a student in Atlanta the boy attracted wide attention and was cited by Enrico Leidy, well-known orchestra conductor here, as one of the most promising young pianists in the city. Since going to New York he has appeared in concerts sponsored by the New York Times and the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

THE CITY BUILDER
DEVOTES NEW ISSUE
TO ART SUBJECTS

The February edition of The City Builder, just off the press, has been given over almost entirely to subjects of art, and has as its frontispiece a remarkable illustration in silhouette done by the world-famous Joseph Cranston Jones, 17-year-old invalid, of Augusta, Ga.

Although he has never seen animal life in reality, the boy's intuitive ability to depict pastorals and naturals with his companionate sissors has elicited comment from many nations, and the cover of this month's Builder resembles a fine old steel engraving.

Chief among the contributors are John Carroll Payne, who describes local art endeavors; J. J. Haverty, himself an avid collector; Malcolm H. Dewey, Miss Ruth Hinman, Mrs. Charles B. Jerome, Frank E. Smith, Augustus Lukeman and a number of other widely-known Atlantans.

ISSUANCE OF F I F A
IS INITIAL MOVE
IN BUS LITIGATION

General William A. Wright, state comptroller, issued a f i f a writ Wednesday against the Atlanta Coach company for $15 as an assessment against that company to pay expenses of the state public service commission, this action marking the first step in litigation which will be brought by the coach company, to test the jurisdiction of the commission over the bus line operated by the company.

It is the contention of the Georgia Power company, that the commission has no power to supervise the operations of bus lines and does not supervise other bus lines in the state. The f i f a was placed in the hands of Sheriff James I. Lowry for collection and resolution will be resisted by the company in courts, it was announced in notice filed with the commission.

Fine Mark Made
In Clarke County
Health Campaign

Wonderful results accomplished in a cooperative health campaign conducted in Clarke county for four years, during which period the death rate in age groups 5 to 15 years was reduced 5 per cent, were reported to Governor Hardman Wednesday by Dr. B. B. Bagby, in charge of this work.

"This report shows such remarkable results that I would like for the people of the entire state to know just what has been done in Clarke county," Governor Hardman said in making public figures in the report.

The work covers a period of four years from 1924 to 1927, inclusive. The figures are compared with the records for the four years immediately preceding, from 1920 to 1923, inclusive.

Total death of infants in white families in the last four years was 44, as compared to 76 during the four preceding years, when the campaign was not in progress. In the preschool age, one to five years, deaths were reduced from 37 to 8. In the school age, five to fourteen, the deaths were reduced from 24 to 10.

The campaign was financed jointly by the city and county boards of health and the child demonstration committee of the commonwealth fund. Of 250,000, the program was based on educating the people in the simple rules of health and living. This campaign reduced the total number of deaths of children from 127, for the period 1920-30, to 62 for the period 1924-27. Among the children, white and negro, the reduction was from 253 to 131.

The reduction in deaths of the white children from 127 to 62 amounted to 55 per cent.

"There is a story that should prove an inspiration to all the counties of Georgia," Governor Hardman said. "This administration is committed unconditionally to the encouragement of such campaigns and will cooperate to the utmost with all the counties that see fit to follow the example of Clarke county. I am sure that equal good results can be accomplished by all counties which adopt such a program and carry it out along the lines used in Clarke county."

Local "Cane Chewers"
Consume Fifty Carloads
Of Stalks Each Season

Atlanta chews fifty carloads of sugar cane every "cane season," which extends from October until some time in December, according to officials of the state department of agriculture.

Local dealers sell approximately 10,000 stalks a day, it was said. An average retail price of five cents per stalk. A carload contains approximately 10,000 stalks and sells for from $250 to $300 per car, the officials estimate. So that the city of Atlanta's cane consumption runs up into figures when the season is taken as a whole.

Four Months "Winter Mileage" Free!

Right now, and for the next four months, you need the safety of new rubber and non-skid protection more than any other time of the year. Treads that are worn smooth make dangerous driving in ice, snow and slush.

Putting on new Dual Grip Generals now, you can drive the next four months with no appreciable wear because good rubber shows practically no wear in cold weather.

In addition to having perfect non-skid protection during the bad months you can start the Spring season with tires still practically new and ready for a year or two. You can figure your four months winter mileage on Dual Grip Generals as free.

Your worn tires not only make winter driving risky but increase gasoline consumption with excessive slippage on wet streets.

Drive in today. Let us take off your worn tires, make you a full allowance for the unused mileage left in them and put on a new set of Dual Grip Generals that will give you the maximum in non-skid protection.

With the rubber price now above 40 cents per pound, tires are still selling at prices set when rubber was 34 cents.

HIGH COST OF DEATH NOT SO HIGH IN SOUTH

New York, February 1.—(A)—The most expensive state in which to die is New Jersey and the least expensive is North Carolina, says a report of the advisory committee on burial survey, made after a two-year investigation.

The report gives Newark, N. J., as the city in which funerals are the most expensive, the average cost there being $493. The average funeral cost in New Jersey is $484. North Carolina's average is $191.

The costs in the United States have risen until now they absorb a major part of the small estates, says the report; in some instances 62.1 per cent of the monies left by the deceased being used for funeral expenses.

The survey lays the responsibility for this situation on excessive emotionalism of the bereaved family and the "disorganized and wasteful" condition of the funeral industry. The solution, it suggests, is elimination within the industry of its weaker and more inefficient members and cooperation of the clergy and agencies dealing with the bereaved families in educating people of limited income to keep funeral expenditures down.

CARL HUTCHESON, LUCIUS BELLINGER NEW LAW PARTNERS

Carl F. Hutcheson and Lucius S. Bellinger, prominent Atlanta lawyers, announce that they have formed a partnership in the practice of law with offices in the Palmer building.

Mr. Hutcheson is a native of Atlanta and a graduate of the University of Georgia. He has served a term on the board of education, and in 1912 served as secretary to the national democratic delegation from Georgia.

Mr. Bellinger is a native of South Carolina and a graduate of the Atlanta Law school. He is a veteran of the world war, and is an officer of the local chapter of the Disabled War Veterans, as well as being a member of the American Legion.

Documents in the library of the state capital place credit for these efforts upon Miss Nina Hornaday, then Georgia day chairman of the chapter, and upon the late Mrs. William Lawson Peel, of Atlanta, then regent of the chapter. Actual passage of the "Georgia day" bill by the legislature, however, did not come until 1909, and

Georgia Day To Be Celebrated EXERCISES TO MARK NINETEENTH CELEBRATION Throughout State February 13

Georgians from the mountains to the marshes will assemble in various ceremonies Monday, February 13, for the state's nineteenth celebration of "Georgia day."

February 12, 1733, as every Georgian schoolboy knows, was the day on which General James Edward Oglethorpe set foot upon the shores of Georgia at Yamacraw Bluff, near Savannah, and planted there in the name of King George II, of England, the colony of Georgia—"Sentinel State" of the original 13.

Many Georgians have thus come to regard February 12 as a familiar date and one freighted with historical significance, quite aside from the importance attaching to it from the fact that it is a legal holiday commemorating the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

But "Georgia day" will be observed this year on Monday, the 13th, because the anniversary of the state's origin happens to fall upon Sunday. Such is the provision of a Georgia law, enacted by the general assembly in 1909, setting aside the 12th of each February as an annual occasion for celebration of the founding of the colony. The law provides that when the twelfth falls on Sunday the following Monday shall be observed as "Georgia day."

Miss Mitchell's Suggestion. Annual state-wide celebration of the occasion is said to have been first suggested by Miss Frances L. Mitchell, of Athens, in her historical work "Georgia Land and People," and it is recorded that the first concerted effort to bring about such observance was made by the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., Atlanta. The organization took initial steps in this direction in 1901, it is said, and with the cooperation of the state school commission soon brought about annual celebrations in many schools of the state.

Documents in the library of the state capital place credit for these efforts upon Miss Nina Hornaday, then Georgia day chairman of the chapter, and upon the late Mrs. William Lawson Peel, of Atlanta, then regent of the chapter. Actual passage of the "Georgia day" bill by the legislature, however, did not come until 1909, and then as the result of efforts by Mrs. Peel's successor as regent, Mrs. John M. Graham.

It is said that Mrs. Graham, after repeated attempts begun in 1904, finally saw passage of the measure in 1909, when a bill drawn up by her husband and introduced by John M. Slaton, then president of the state senate, was passed by both houses of the assembly and signed by Governor Joseph M. Brown on August 13.

Provisions of Bill. The bill names the day and provides for appropriate exercises in the schools of the state. It reads as follows:

"Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Georgia, That the 12th day of February in each year shall be observed in the public schools of the state, under the name of 'Georgia day,' as the anniversary of the landing of the first colonists in Georgia under Oglethorpe; and it shall be the duty of the state school commissioner, through the county school commissioners, to cause the reading of the history of the state to be made in the schools under their supervision to conduct on that day exercises in which the pupils shall take part, consisting of written compositions, readings, recitations, and dresses or other exercises relating to the state and its history and the lives of distinguished Georgians. When said day falls on Sunday it shall be observed on the following Monday."

In addition to being "Georgia day," and Lincoln's birthday anniversary, February 12 has signified several other historic events, among them the birth of Cotton Mather, the New England Puritan and writer on witchcraft and theology; the death of Emanuel Kant, the German philosopher; and the beheading of Lady Jane Grey, noted in English history. On February 12, 1688, William, Prince of Orange, removed James II from the throne.

U. S. AGENTS RAID 72 DISTILLERIES IN NORTH GEORGIA

Seventy-two distilleries were raided by federal prohibition agents during January, according to the monthly report of Howard P. Wright, deputy administrator for the northern district of Georgia. The report shows that 1,269 gallons of liquor and 118,080 gallons of still beer were destroyed.

Twelve automobiles, valued at $4,000, fell into the hands of the government, and property valued at $23,994.75 was destroyed. Sixty-one arrests were made for prohibition violations, and 80 prosecutions were recommended to the district attorney.

CHICAGO MAN DIES ON WAY TO CHICAGO

The body of Barney P. Senelick, 49, of Chicago, who died suddenly early Wednesday morning from a heart attack, while driving his automobile in Hapeville, en route from Chicago to Florida, was taken at night to Chicago.

Mr. Senelick was traveling with his wife, three children and a Chicago furrier, Max Seigel, when he was stricken with the fatal attack. He was taken into a nearby residence and a physician was summoned but he was dead when medical aid reached him.

FORMER OFFICER IS HELD IN PROBE OF MILLS' DEATH

Investigation of the death Sunday of W. H. Mills in a burning automobile led to the arrest Wednesday of J. W. Stegall, 27, of 241 Woodward avenue, plumber and former city policeman, on a charge of "suspicion."

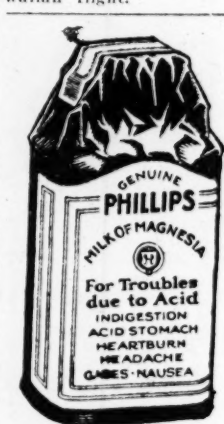

Stegall, according to the officers, said that he was with Mills and another man until 5:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and that "all had been drinking," but that he and his companion left Mills in his automobile on Orange street. The former policeman stated that he did not learn of Mills' death until he was arrested Wednesday.

Mills was burned to death when his automobile caught fire at Georgia avenue and Frazier street. The coroner's jury returned a verdict giving the cause of the fire as "undetermined."

GOEBEL ANNOUNCES FLIGHT NEW YORK PARIS AND RETURN

Santa Monica, Cal., February 1.—(A)—Art Goebel, winner of the Dole air derby from California to Hawaii last August, has announced he would make a flight from New York to Paris and return some time next June. The trip, he said, will be made in a triple-motored plane and financed by an eastern concern.

Goebel will attempt to establish a new world's endurance record now held by German aviators, prior to the transatlantic hop, he also announced. Daytona Beach, Fla., has been selected by the aviator as starting point for the endurance flight. For this event he will use the plane "Woodcock," the ship he used on the Hawaiian flight.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—(adv.)

DECISION ON RATES IS PROMISED SOON

Southern carriers, through the Southern Freight association, Wednesday announced that decision on shippers' demands for revision of less than carload commodity rates would be made "as soon as practicable."

Hearings for either revision or continuance of present rates were concluded Tuesday afternoon and, affecting as they did, more than 200 commodities, the carriers were unable to say just how long it would take them to consider the requests.

The hearings here, beginning Monday, January 23, were concluded Tuesday under prearranged agreement between the carriers and shippers.

The hearings were arranged as a sequel to the sweeping change in class rates effective by interstate commerce commission order throughout the south on January 15.

Holloman, Haynes McFadden, James E. Nevin, Alfred C. Newell, A. J. Orme, John Paschall, Frederic J. Paxton, I. N. Ragsdale, Walter B. Stewart, George W. West and Platt Young.

Mrs. Lindheim To Be Greeted By Jews Today

Atlanta Jewry today will be host to Mrs. Irma L. Lindheim, national Hadassah president, vice president of the Zionist Organization of America and a Jewess of world prominence.

Mrs. Lindheim will address a public meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Jewish Woman's club, corner of Washington and Clark streets.

Recently returned from her second trip to Palestine and attendance at the Jewish congress in Basel, Mrs. Lindheim is perhaps better acquainted with actual developments of reconstruction work in the Jewish homeland than any other woman in America.

Her visit to Atlanta is heralded as one of the biggest occasions for the local Jewish community in many years and it is believed there will be many visitors from nearby towns in attendance when she speaks.

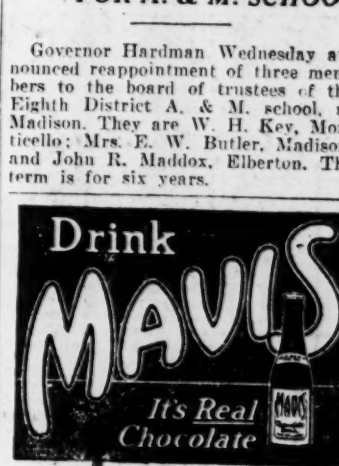

Mrs. Lindheim is noted for her charm as a speaker and her keen insight into the trend of social conditions. She is a recognized social worker in New York, an author of distinction and a colorful figure of modern womanhood. During the late war she served in the United States motor corps; she toured the villages of the Holy Land on horseback on her first visit to Palestine, and on her recent trip there flew by airplane from Cairo to Jerusalem.

When she arrives in Atlanta this morning, Mrs. Lindheim will be greeted by local Jewish leaders. A tea at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel and dinner at the Henry Grady hotel will be given in her honor. The main feature of her visit, however, will be the public meeting tonight at which she will speak.

Two Workers Lose Lives And Third Is Badly Hurt When Buried Under Slide

Eight Negro Laborers Trapped While Working on Foundation for Mitchell Street Building.

Trapped without warning as they were strengthening the excavated foundation for a building at the corner of East Mitchell and South Forsyth streets shortly before noon Wednesday, two negroes were almost instantly killed and a third was seriously injured when the Mitchell street wall caved in on them.

Those killed were Troy Holland, of 557 Greensferry road, and John Thompson, Columbus Tinch, who lives on Carter street, was so severely crushed by the tons of earth that fell upon him that he is not expected to live. He was taken to Grady hospital after being dug out of the cave-in by firemen and police.

Eight negro laborers, under the supervision of Hugh Holland, brother of one of the dead men, were at work on the excavated area, strengthening the Mitchell street side of the foundation, which is the property of the M. L. Throver Real Estate company.

According to Hugh Holland, the walls caved in without a moment's warning, covering seven of the men. The deluge of earth struck him on the chest, sending him reeling backwards. Holland related shortly after the accident.

A general alarm for ambulances and fire apparatus brought scores of rescue workers to the scene and Charlie Perry, George Tooley, George Marshall and Oscar Wright, four other laborers, were hastily dug out of the cave-in area.

The excavation on the Mitchell street side, according to city building inspectors, had been condemned and the owners of the property had begun work of reinforcing that portion of the excavation. The surrounding area, heavily-soaked with water from recent rains and a burst water pipe is believed to have given way to the strain placed upon the top-heavy area of the soil.

Mrs. Klotz was not thought seriously ill. She was removed to the hospital a few hours before the death of her sister Monday.

M'ADOO TAKES FIELD

TO BATTLE SMITH

The Woman's Christian Temperance union and other dry organizations.

The speaker suggested, among other things, that the federal government give financial aid to the states in prohibition enforcement, somewhat after the manner of the federal aid system by which states now are assisted in road building and other enterprises of national concern. He denied the charge that in enforcing the eighteenth amendment the federal government was infringing states' rights, pointing out that 46 of the states had themselves ratified the amendment, binding all the states by overwhelming consent.

He made direct reference to Governor Smith in recounting that neither New York nor Maryland had a state prohibition enforcement act, and declared that in both states the burden of enforcement had been left upon an insufficiently large staff of federal agents.

"Considerable misunderstanding of the consequences of the repeal of the state enforcement act in New York has been created by recent utterances of the governor of that state," Mr. McAdoo continued. "After giving his approval to the act repealing the state prohibition law, the governor now says that 'there devolves upon the state the sacred duty of sustaining the 18th amendment and the Volstead law. They are as much a part of the laws of this state as our own statutes and our own constitution,' and he then goes on to imply that even in the absence of a state enforcement act the police agencies of the state are available for the enforcement of prohibition."

"His effort is apparently to create the impression that no state enforcement statute is necessary because even in the absence of such a statute the state officials are under an obligation to enforce the Volstead act. This position is entirely misleading and has no justification in law. While it is, of course, true that the eighteenth amendment is a part of the laws of every state, the eighteenth amendment is not self-executing and requires an enforcement statute to put it into effect. The Volstead act is such a statute, but it is not true that the Volstead act is a part of the laws of the state of New York."

"Because the state courts are thus without jurisdiction to enforce the Volstead act, the police find themselves paralyzed in any efforts they may make to enforce prohibition in the state courts. The 'sacred duty' upon state officials of which the governor speaks, doubtless exists, but the means of performing it were taken away from them when jurisdiction over prohibition offenses was removed from the state courts by repeal of the state enforcement act."

JOHNSON DEMANDS

COAL MINES PROBE

Washington, February 1.—(United News.)—Demanding action on his resolution to authorize a senate investigation of conditions in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia coal fields, Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, told the senate today that he had been prevented by court injunction from sending a thorough and fair investigation should be made.

Johnson recited sensational charges of cruelty, brutality and extortion against union mine workers in fields in the three states, and he was backed up by Senator David A. Reed, Pennsylvania republican, who said he agreed with Johnson that a thorough and fair investigation should be made.

Reed declared he would vote for Johnson's resolution.

"There is intense suffering in union and non-union districts both operators and miners," Reed said. "With the present price of coal it is practically impossible for either miner or operator to exist."

"Many people," Reed said, "are living in a condition under which no American should live."

"An investigation of charges that the mine trust system is being revived in the three states is now being made by Governor Fisher, of Pennsylvania," Johnson read a letter from Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, which said "thugs and gunmen of the most depraved and desperate type" had been commissioned special police officers in the state before he took office.

NEW PACT MONDAY

the pact abandons the language of the Root treaty exempting from arbitration questions of national honor and vital interest. It is regarded here as strengthening the Root peace machinery to that extent.

An important aspect of the new treaty is the fact that in interlocking with the Bryan conciliation treaty with France which continues until denounced by either party. That treaty requires that no dispute of any character shall go to the extent of war or warlike preparations by either country until a period of one year in which conciliators shall have attempted adjustment shall have passed.

The reformed arbitration pact makes reference to this treaty, coupling the conciliation and arbitration machinery together. In cases where there is no conciliation treaty in making over other outstanding arbitration pacts, the state department expects to incorporate the equivalent of the Bryan treaties. Otherwise the Franco-American model will be followed closely.

Signature of the new arbitration treaty means the indefinite postponement of the discussion with the Paris government of the question of a separate treaty renouncing war which grew out of the Briand proposals to Washington last year. Secretary Kellogg has not replied as yet to the last French note stating difficulties of that government in accepting his counterplan for a multilateral six-power treaty and reassuring French insistence on limitations of the wars to be denounced to "wars of aggression."

here. Under defense questioning he testified Hickman then himself wrote the 19-page confession. The defendant did not seem to be moved by the reading of the details.

Colonel Charles Edwards, former chief of police in Kansas City, a one-time benefactor and friend of the Hickman who today was 20 years old, related in the last sheet of depositions presented by the defense that he personally believed the youth insane at the time of the crime. He asserted, however, he was incompetent to pass legal judgment on the question.

Colonel Edwards revealed that he was instrumental in obtaining a position for Hickman in the Los Angeles bank of which Perry M. Parker, father of the slain child, is an officer. After Hickman was convicted of forging checks at the bank, Edwards had the youth paroled to him.

In a deposition Colonel Edwards' wife said she had remarked at the time that the forgery seemed an act of insanity.

The opinion that Hickman was insane was expressed by Mrs. Rebecca Tomlin, one of Hickman's school teachers, but she admitted she had formed her conclusion after his arrest in the Parker case.

SHOALS OPERATION

CHALLENGE FLUNG

Washington, February 1.—(P)—After his resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals had been reported from the committee today, Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, issued a challenge on the senate floor to the American Farm Bureau federation to operate part of the property for the production of fertilizer.

The Norris resolution was approved by the agriculture committee, on which the Nebraska senator was once chairman, by a vote of 11 to 4. Speaking in the senate later of a proposed amendment to his measure, Norris declared that if "Mr. Chester Gray, of the American Farm Bureau federation, is sincere and really loves the farmers, he will accept my proposition."

The proposition follows up the colloquy of a few days ago between the senator and the farm bureau representative at an agriculture committee hearing. It provides for turning over nitrate plant No. 2 to the farm bureau or the American Cyanamid company, whose offer for Muscle Shoals the farm bureau favors, for its operation at cost provided cheaper fertilizer is produced for the farmers.

Mr. Gray has claimed that fertilizer can be produced at Muscle Shoals more cheaply than it can be bought now, declared Senator Norris.

"Now if Mr. Gray is in earnest and in reality has the interest of the farmer at heart, here is the glorious opportunity to get the plant for nothing, power at cost and limestone for five cents a ton," the Nebraska senator continued. He holds that Muscle Shoals is essentially a power proposition and that it is not practical to attempt to produce fertilizer there. His resolution would have the government operate Muscle Shoals for the production of power.

But she admitted she had formed her conclusion after his arrest in the Parker case.

LINDBERGH FETTERED IN VIRGIN ISLANDS

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, February 1.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, whose brilliant flight from Caracas, Venezuela, to St. Thomas has more than ever endeared him in the hearts of his fellow Americans here, was fettered enthusiastically today.

Driven in an open automobile with Governor Evans to the public garden at 10 o'clock this morning, the colonel was constantly surrounded by cheering crowds including school children who waved flags eagerly. The automobile was escorted by a band and a guard of marines.

He then visited the banking service Governor Evans and the chairman of the colonial council delivered welcoming addresses and presented the American air hero with an unusual memento, the gift of the citizens of St. Thomas.

In accepting the gift, Lindbergh thanked the people for their enthusiastic welcome and said he wished he could spend as many weeks as he planned days on the island, but that his short visit was necessary in order to keep to his schedule.

He then visited the hospital and the Freemasons' lodge where a special meeting was held in his honor. At the lodge he was presented with a silver Masonic trowel.

New York, February 1.—(P)—Charles A. Levine, trans-Atlantic flight passenger, said last night he had no arrangements for or contemplated a Richmond-to-Vienna flight this spring with Lieutenant Otto H. Comp, German war ace, as pilot.

He was introduced to Comp on a visit to Richmond to inspect a proposed air port there, he said.

"I met Lieutenant Comp for the first time very casually on a recent flight to Richmond," Levine said. "I did not discuss any flight with him, neither have I contemplated any flight with him."

Ignace Paderewski Holds Great Audience Entranced

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

For two and a half hours Ignace Paderewski, pianist of all ages, held the audience of the piano, sat in front of his instrument at the auditorium Wednesday night and held a vast audience in rapt ecstacy as he played with a fire and passion which testified to the onward sweep of inexorable time in his not a whit impaired his marvelous virtuosity.

Paderewski the Great, they call him, and great he is. Poor, impotent words can never describe the beauty, the art, the musicianship, magic blending of tones, the crashing smashes of virtuosic fingers, skilled after a lifetime of painstaking effort which are found in a brilliant Paderewski concert.

Brilliant was the work of the master and brilliant was the audience that gathered from the four quarters of Atlanta and Georgia to greet the famous Polish artist. The big arena was packed to capacity, the balconies were filled with people who overflowed into the aisles while the dress circles were fairly well populated. And the huge audience enjoyed what many believe to be the greatest piano recital ever given here by Paderewski at any time in his long career.

Particularly happy in the selection of his program, Paderewski played a little bit of every kind of music ever composed for the pianoforte. It ranged all the way from a simple little serenade to the massive grandeur of the Hungarian Rhapsody of Franz Liszt and in between was a gallant variety of compositions which gave the artist a chance to display to the full his amazing skill and deftness of touch.

In a popular novel there is a scene where a woman watches the hands of the clock as they move over the face of the clock. She watches them as they move and judges the emotions of these people by their hands. When Paderewski plays a person can watch his hands running up and down the keys and can see them educe every possible human emotion from this instrument. They fly now with the swiftness of machine gun fire. Now they linger slowly up and down the keys, as if they were the hands of a clock, and then they come back like the reverberations of a thunderstorm. Next melodies as soft as the purr of a mountain cat, and then they come back like the delicate of the flute. Every human emotion is expressed in the hands of the artist.

After this concluding number the big audience swarmed into the front of the arena and called for more. Paderewski bowed and bowed, but the audience would not be denied. He bowed and bowed and bowed, but the audience demanded more. Only after he played his famous Minuet in G, his masterpiece, did he bow and bow and bow, but the audience demanded more. Only after he played his famous Minuet in G, his masterpiece, did he bow and bow and bow, but the audience demanded more.

COOLIDGE PLAN HIT AT FLOOD QIZ END

Washington, February 1.—(United Press.)—There are no good reasons why the federal government should not be able to function in its flood control program without local contributions, said Senator Charles McNary, of Louisiana, in a brief statement to the house flood control committee just before hearings were closed today.

Having spent three months hearing testimony, the committee will proceed to draft a measure designed to curb the restless waters of the Mississippi. Sentiment is strongly against the president's policy of charging 50 per cent of the cost of the plan to the states.

ILLINOIS A. C. DECIDES TO SCRAP ITS AMATEURS

Authorities Will Quit Business of Pretending

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, February 1.—The Illinois Athletic club is reported to have decided to scrap its great athletic lineup and go back to amateurism, saying, "Where do we get by pretending that these fellows are amateurs?"

In other words, the Illinois A. C. seems to have decided to give its athletes nothing but the works hereafter. This is a phrase much favored in the more vulgar lines of sport, but I understand that it really originated with the amateurs, and its origin, if I am correctly advised, is illustrative of the state of amateurism to which the Illinois A. C. now refers with such candor.

In amateur athletics, it is customary to present distinguished athletes of a certain temper, whose mere presence in a competition attracts customers to the turnouts, with little or no thought of the great cash value. Custom standardized this motto as a watchword. But, as the track meets and events of that kind came to be more highly competitive from the box-office point of view, the tournament committees found themselves bidding against one another in a certain sense, for the services of famous and picturesque performers.

"Just Another Watch." It got so that it was very hard to arouse the interest of certain desirable spectators by offering them watches. They already had watches. In fact, when Jackson Scholz was in the newspaper business, and we worked in the watch store, he showed up at the desk one day with a very nice watch, and when I admired it he said: "I have got a peek of them in my room. It is just another watch."

However, I do not wish to imply that Mr. Scholz ever got anything out of the works in his watches, as he was then working very hard for a small salary, and any way I do not think he is that kind of a material athlete.

In order to make the watches more attractive to the athletes, I have heard, the home of the clubs which promoted indoor meets hit upon the plan of concealing other little souvenirs in the watch case, first rings, and then a small clock, and a period of slump is a good time for stock taking.

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—Club owners of the American League approved a 1928 schedule of 154 games, a record for the league, and a $1,000,000 award to all future winners of the "most valuable player" contest today.

The draft committee of French League in January 1927 was revived and after debate of several hours was referred back to the advisory board. League spokesmen said the failure to get the French League report before the Dallas conference of the union was the cause of the draft problem.

One of the Dallas miners' suggestions, the drafting of union players, is being considered by the league. It is interesting to think how much may be compressed into so little space. A one-hundred-

Stephens Leads A. A. C. to 52-32 Victory Over J. P. C. Five

Fast Guarding Of Bean Boys Checks Rivals

A. A. C. Comes From Behind to Lead Foes at Half Way Mark.

A. A. C.-Georgia Game Time Set

Coach Joe Bean, of the Atlanta Athletic club, has announced that the starting time of the A. A. C. game will be 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Athletic Director Al Doonan, of the club, wishes to make it plain that all basketball games at the club are open to the public. The attendance is not confined to club members and the public is invited to attend.

BY WHITNER CARY.

The basketball championship of Atlanta rests beneath the roof of the Atlanta Athletic club.

This fact was brought about Wednesday night on the Athletic club floor when the pupils of Coach Bean, playing in their very best form, ran wild against the strong Jewish Progressive club five to win by the impressive score of 52 to 32.

With the exception of the first few minutes of play when the Progressive five got away to an 8 to 4 lead, the Bean boys were complete masters of the occasion. In passing in shooting and in team work, the Athletic club outclassed its opponents.

Forced to Long Shots.

During the first half the Progressive club attempted to work the ball close to the basket before attempting a shot. So close was the guarding of the Bean outfit in the second chapter that the J. P. C.'s were forced to resort to long range tactics. The first half found the Athletic club leading 27 to 16.

During the first few minutes of the second half, the Bean crew flashed its most spectacular brand of the cage game. Pat Stephens, who had been held fairly well during the first stanza began to find the basket from all angles. The score quickly mounted and when seven and a half minutes had been clicked off the Bean boys had run up 12 points while holding the opposition to a zero count. Bales finally found the loop for the first J. P. C. score of that half.

From this point until the close the two teams battled furiously, but the J. P. C. five was unable to make any headway against the great defense exhibited by the Athletic club.

Stephens Stars. Stephens, with 17 points, was easily the high point man for the night. Pat was in rare form in the second half when he registered no less than 14 points. Bales and McCrory also contributed some sparkling work. The latter was especially brilliant at the start of the game when his long range shots were finding the basket with unerring regularity. The entire Athletic club team played a very fine defensive game.

Rosenberg was the outstanding defensive star for J. P. C. Hirsch was the leading scorer, while Hillman's work was of a high order.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes in the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job, in order to spend a little time at Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table.

INSTALLMENT IV.

ESTHER GETS THE JOB.

The man sounded cold, indifferent. The woman made an impulsive gesture.

"Ah, mon cher, now I have hurt you! Naturally I know you cannot care for this creature, this mountain of fat, this esquisse de vache espagnole," she uttered the epithet literally through her teeth, "but all the same I know that she wants you, and I also know that if you go so far away—thousands and thousands of miles—it will be the end. You know it, too."

Out of the tail of her eye, Esther saw the young man merely shrug his shoulders. She grew more and more interested.

"Listen, Arthur. Can we not find you something here?"

"Good God, in Cannes?"

She answered the utter contempt of this with a burst of self-reproach.

"Mon Dieu, mon Dieu, c'est de ma faute, si j'avais su—"

"O cut it, old girl, what's the good of post-mortems?"

"But it was my fault! If only I hadn't let him think it was because—"

"If I'd thought of some other excuse! But I never knew, I never dreamed—"

And now, of course, I'm so utterly helpless, my hands are tied!"

She made a hysterical gesture which slithered the diamond bangles in a mass together.

"O well—"

"Arthur, tell me! Is there no other way, absolutely no other? Must you go with this creature?"

A pause while the returning waiter set before them tea and a cocktail. Then the young man's voice, wearied and irritable.

"I tell you I've got to live. And I can't live on air."

Another long pause and Esther began to fear they would say no more.

She had become so interested, too, it seemed a shame. After a wait of at least three minutes the woman spoke once more in an altered, quieter tone.

"I forgot to tell you something. Yesterday I went again to Fleurestine. You remember Fleurestine?"

"O, that woman!"

"O, I know you don't believe in her, but—well, anyhow, yesterday she went into a trance. She was quite, quite unconscious. She saw things. She saw Charles—"

"O, she did, did she?"

As if moved by common impulse, both turned and took a brief survey of the neighboring tables. On Esther they bent but a casual glance. She was apparently quite absorbed in the contents of her bag.

"She saw him in bed, ill, very ill. There was a nurse beside him."

"O, that was all, except that she described the doctor?"

"Not my friend Sartorius?"

"Yes, she described him perfectly."

Esther strained her ears to catch all they said. Dr. Sartorius—so these people were patients of his!

"What then?"

"Nothing. She woke up."

"She would?"

He gave an ironical laugh.

"Still, Arthur, one can't help thinking—"

"After all, he's 73."

"Yes, and he'll live to be 90. You'll see."

"Ninety?"

"I'm not joking. It wouldn't surprise me if he outlived us both."

There was a gasp of horror from the French woman.

"O, Arthur, it's cruel of you! Besides, I tell you, it's impossible, it's—"

"Yes, I know, it's simply not done. But he'll do it, you'll see."

"I will not see. I refuse to believe it, he cannot—"

"Steady on, Therese!"

There was a note of warning in his voice the cause of which Esther perceived when a moment later the couple ple were joined by a plump French woman with henna'd hair and a burnt orange makeup.

"Comment ça va, Therese? Ah, Captain, on me dit que vous avez l'intention de nous quitter. C'est vrai?"

What ensued was lost in a cackle of French interspersed with high pitched laughter. The friend sat down for a few minutes, joked with the "Captain," drank the remainder of his cocktail, and patted him familiarly on the cheek. Esther stole a glance at the beautiful blond woman and found her calm, gazing across the room with narrowed eyes and an expression of thought. At last she got out her mirror and made herself up, as delicately as a cat washes its face, little touches here and there.

"Going?"

"Yes, I shall see if the doctor will give me a piquette. I am very tired."

"I thought you had him on Mondays and Thursdays."

"Yes, but sometimes I have an extra one. They pick me up."

In two minutes all three had risen and disappeared into the crowd about the broad stairs that led into the room.

Left behind, Esther felt a sense of flatness and anti-climax. She had begun to take such a keen interest in the blond woman and her young Englishman that the thought of not finding out more about them filled her with disappointment. Still, they were patients of the doctor she was perhaps going to work for, so there was a chance that she might learn something more. She sat turning over in her mind all she had overheard.

Though not particularly worldly wise, she was no fool and while she was not quite clear about the situation of these two and their relations to each other, the various implications they had let fall were not entirely lost on her.

She had not seen the last of the captain, as it happened. Five minutes later she caught sight of him sauntering about near the entrance with a vacant eye and a restless manner.

Simultaneously there approached her corner a short, enormously fat, over-dressed woman, barging aggressively ahead towards the vacant table, her huge bosom well in advance like the prow of a ship. As the swarthy face drew nearer she saw that it and the bosom belonged to the Spanish woman of the Carlton—no doubt the very one who was trying to entice the young man to the Argentine. Yes, and there was her daughter coming in her wake, a clumsily built girl in pink satin, her swart arms bare to the shoulder.

The elder woman attacked the waiter almost bodily, and in hard, guttural French commanded him to move the table closer to the dancing floor—an operation causing considerable annoyance to the surrounding guests. For a moment the Spaniard pressed her bulk so close to Esther that the latter nearly choked with the fumes of her chypre. Then suddenly there was a shriek of delight. The lady, as Esther expressed it to herself, had discovered her "boy friend."

With amusement she watched the stolid daughter led away by a "professionist" to dance the tango, leaving her mother in eager conversation with the Englishman, tapping his arm with her pudgy hand, her black eyes like burnt holes in the whiteness of her powdered face. Then she threaded her way out of the restaurant and through the main entrance of the Casino.

When she reached her hotel the salaried clerk called to her as she passed his desk.

"O, mess, I have here a note for you. It has just arrived."

She tore open the envelope. It contained two lines in a small, slovenly hand on thick, engraved paper.

Dr. Sartorius will expect Nurse Rowe tomorrow, Wednesday, at 9 in the morning."

So that was that!

RATHER JUST SIT AROUND?

A Feeling Many Have Which
Is Often Mistaken for Laziness
When Really It Is Due to Constipation.

Redfield, Ark.—"Black-Draught is certainly a mighty good medicine to have," says Mr. J. A. Tuck of this place. "We use it about all the time. I take it for indigestion and headache. If I get constipated and bilious, I feel like sitting around instead of working. I have any ambition to get up and get busy, but after I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and it acts, I feel all right. Black-Draught hasn't failed me yet."

"My daughter won't sleep. Had gas formations that seemed to smother her. She would have trouble in getting her breath. She was sallow and peaked. Now she takes Black-Draught and it seems to help her. She takes it after meals. This seems to dispel the gas, and she is much better than she was. Her skin cleared up considerably. We wouldn't be without Black-Draught. It is a good medicine."

Thousands of others would not want to be without Black-Draught, since they have learned how valuable its use is, in cases of constipation and its due to that very common trouble. Black-Draught is easily obtainable from neighborhood druggists, in 25c packages. Give it a good trial.

Miss White and J. C. Harris, III, Wed at Brilliant Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Bessie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry White, and Joel Chandler Harris, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Harris, was brilliantly solemnized Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock at St. Mark's Methodist church before a representative assemblage of Atlanta society. Preceding the marriage service, Miss Eda Bartholomew rendered an appropriate program of organ music. During the ceremony Miss Bartholomew played softly MacDowell's "The Water Lily." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played as the wedding attendants entered the church. Rev. W. L. Duren, pastor of the church, performed the impressive and dignified service.

Magnificent Decorations

The interior of the handsome gray stone church was magnificently decorated for the occasion, a color motif of green and white being effectively carried out. Palms, tropical plants and lacy ferns banked the choir loft, in pyramid effect, and the back of the altar. Against the dark green foliage white wicker floor vases filled with Easter lilies stood at artistic intervals, while between each basket was placed tall cathedral candelabra in which burned slender white waxen tapers. The steps leading to the altar were outlined with ropes of Southern smilax connecting floor baskets overflowing with Easter lilies. A huge urn of Easter lilies stood in the center of the altar.

Clusters of Easter lilies in white wide white satin ribbon marked the pews reserved for the two families. In each of the broad stained glass windows a large basket of Easter lilies was placed and in the corners of the spacious church palms and fern plants were banked.

Wedding Attendants

The ushers entered first descending the long aisle in pairs. They were Forrest R. Fisher, Russell G. Jones, Dr. Julian H. Buff and Harris C. White. They were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, who walked down the aisle in alternating pairs. Misses Jeannette Bailey, Mary Rhorer, Ann Kessnich and Mrs. DeLeon Scruggs, the groom's sister, acted as bridesmaids. They were wearing figures wearing gowns of tulle shaded from pink to a deep red. The graceful full skirts were formed entirely of narrow tulle ruffles and the close-fitting tulle bodices were posed over pink satin. Adding a graceful effect to the modish costumes were soft ribbon sashes featuring the three orchid shades, the shades forming a drapery effect at the side fronts. They wore satin slippers to match and carried bouquets of pink orchids and shaded sweetpeas. The groomsmen included Marshall Welborn, Baxter Maddox, Everett Thomas and William H. White. Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Harris, the groom's parents, and members of the bridal party received. On either side of the mantel were graceful groups of flowers featuring lavender hyacinths, pink roses, pink and lavender sweetpeas. In the spacious living room a color motif of green and white prevailed. Easter lilies playing a conspicuous part in was tied with satin ribbon matching her costume.

Miss Geraldine White, another sister of the bride, who acted as maid-of-honor, walked alone to the altar, and her piquante blond loveliness was an exquisite contrast to the bride's brunette beauty. She wore a tulle gown posed over flesh-colored satin, the tulle forming panels of narrow ruffles. Completing the becoming costume was an arm bouquet of Columbia roses and pink sweetpeas. Master Bobby Hanes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Moultrie Hanes, of Asheville, N. C., acted as ringbearer, and in his regulation evening suit made a handsome miniature gentleman as he descended the aisle alone bearing the wedding ring on a small white satin pillow.

Little Miss Mildred and Evelyn White, young sisters of the bride, preceded the bride to the altar, and were dainty flower girls in flesh-colored tulle frocks designed entirely of tiny ruffles. Adorning the left shoulders of the dresses were French bouquets of small pastel flowers, from which a shower of narrow pink satin ribbons. Small baskets of pink roses, pink sweetpeas and valley lilies hung from their wrists.

William H. White, the bride's father, accompanied the bride to the altar, where they were joined by the groom and his brother, Stuart Harris, who acted as best man.

Beautiful Bride

The bride, distinctly a patrician in type, presented a picture of ineffable loveliness in her bridal attire. Her gown was a Paton model and was simply and exquisitely fashioned of the softest ivory satin with graceful clinging draperies especially becoming to her slender beauty. The long sleeves were pointed at the wrists and both the back and front neckline featured a V-shaped yoke. A square court train of ivory satin hung from her shoulders in continuity of line and the perfection of her costume was accentuated by ivory pumps without ornament. Entirely covering the train was the voluminous tulle bridal veil beautifully arranged in the softest folds with graceful blossoms that were confined with a handsome pin that belonged to the bride's paternal great grandmother and worn by brides of three generations. She carried a gorgeous bouquet of orchids, showered with alloy lilies, the outer edge of the bouquet being of white lilies. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

Elaborate Reception

Following the church ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. White entertained at an elaborate reception at "Whitehurst," their home on Peachtree road. Springtime beauty was expressed in the decoration of the reception rooms, where several hundred guests assembled. Palms banked the broad mantel in the music room, where Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Harris, the groom's parents, and members of the bridal party received. On either side of the mantel were graceful groups of flowers featuring lavender hyacinths, pink roses, pink and lavender sweetpeas. In the spacious living room a color motif of green and white prevailed. Easter lilies playing a conspicuous part in

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Save about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is, pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of pine in a pint of water and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistent, with phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and hoarseness.

This is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiac, and is the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "25 ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Twenty-five Cash Prizes in All—Amounting to $4,515.00

THIS CONTEST CLOSSES WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8

These big cash prizes are going to be given away to the lucky winners, and no one has a better chance than you if you will only make the proper effort. The object of the game is to see how much you can make the "COW" weigh by filling inside of the border representing the cow with figures "9."

How Much Can You Make the "COW" WEIGH?

THAT'S THE PROBLEM!

Try Your Hand at It by Writing the Figure "9" as Many Times as You Can Inside the Borderline of the "Cow."

Begin now on the game by clipping out the "cow" picture and start with lead pencil to filling in with the figure "9." You will find it absorbing fun, and every "9" that you write in the "cow" figure takes you further on your way to the big cash prizes that are to be given.

Be sure that the "9's" do not touch each other, nor touch the border of the cow. You may have additional copies of the "cow" picture by writing to the Cow Contest Dept., enclosing a stamped return envelope. The extra copies, however, will be on the same grade of paper as this is printed on.

You have a chance to earn $35.00, $250.00, $1,000.00 or $2,000.00, as explained and shown in the Prize List.

How to Win $2,000.00

It is not necessary to send a subscription, but by qualifying your entry into "How much can you make the cow weigh" game with one or two subscriptions, you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. If qualified with one year's subscription the prize will be $1,000.00 instead of $250.00, or if qualified with two annual subscriptions the prize would be $2,000.00 instead of $1,000.00, and so on with proportional increases throughout the entire prize list. In all there are 25 prizes, as shown in this announcement.

$35.00 Will be awarded to the winner of first prize in the cow picture, if no subscription is sent to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

Street No. ....

or R. F. D. .... Mos. Amt. $.....

How many times can you write by hand, using a lead pencil, the figure "9" inside the border forming the cow outline? The sum total of the number of the "9's" that you put in the cow picture will represent your answer or what you give as the weight of the cow. For example twenty "9's" will be 180 pounds; one hundred "9's" would be 900 pounds, etc. Can you write in one hundred "9's," two hundred, or how many? The person having the greatest number of "9's," that is, the largest sum total, will win first prize, second largest second prize, etc.

$7,500

Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance

issued to annual subscribers and immediate members of a subscriber's family of ages from 15 to 70 at $1.25 per policy each per year.

This fee is in addition to the subscription price. Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name and relationship to the insured.

Important Facts to Remember!

While the amount you pay with the solution does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win one of the awards, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

Address your solution, remittances, etc., to the Contest Manager, Daily Circulation Dept., The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8TH, 1928

No Solution Can Be Changed After It Has Once Been Registered.

If you find that you can make the cow weigh more than the first solution, which you sent, the only thing you can do is to send in another solution, which must be independent of the first solution submitted. In other words, the qualification of one solution already submitted cannot be transferred to a later solution.

Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta, where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier, upon request of the subscriber or contestant; otherwise the paper will be sent by mail.

A person who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, and paying the carrier or agent by the week or month, or otherwise, may send or bring directly to The Constitution a six or twelve months payment to qualify a solution. Whatever is due such carrier, dealer or agent at that time must be paid to him as the remittance sent us will date from the date it is received. The carrier or agent will be notified by The Constitution of such advance payments. If all arrears are not paid, the solution may not be considered valid. Renewals on mail subscriptions will be extended for the length of time paid for from present paid date of expiration. All qualifying subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

Contest closes Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. All solutions delivered in person must be at The Constitution office by 9:00 p. m. of that date, but may be mailed any time before midnight. Solutions mailed at any post office in Georgia and adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than midnight, February 8th, 1928, will be accepted if rules governing same are complied with. The contest extends from Wednesday, January 4th, 1928, to and including Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. Five days will be given thereafter for those who have not fully qualified for the larger prizes to do so, after which no further qualification remittances will be accepted.

The above rules are simple, easy to understand, and is all the information that can be given on the contest except that which appears in the announcement of which this is a part.

RADIO-ING The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.
Welcome to the camp fire, Adventurer Lee O. Wing!

The Dial Twister has just received a list of "game bagged" Monday night by Hunter Wing and we gladly award him the seat of honor at the camp fire for his "kills."

Here's Mr. Wing's log (and isn't it a peach?):
5:30 p. m.—Upon looking over the Washington Post, my first game was cited at WSAI, a rather inferior specimen sending forth his plaintive cry on a mouth organ.

5:35 p. m.—Passing the William Penn hotel, heard fine orchestra playing Hungarian Rhapsody through KDKA.

5:45 p. m.—Hardly started, heard not get out of city when heard echoes of big game, bugged United States army band at WSAI. Nothing quite like a good hand. Same band from KDKA and WGL came in strong and clear.

6:00 p. m.—Heard peculiar clear echo through the wilds, readily recognized as excellent specimen of N. E. Yankee, our president speaking from Washington, but not constant talking on telephone lines. My dog, who was listening to KDKA, heard him speak clearly and without hearing voices, as only WSB. Could hear only from WGL. President Coolidge speaks as if he meant what he says and has no time to bore us with a lot of stuff he doesn't want to say.

6:15 p. m.—While pausing to eat my dinner (which I am as usual eating from a tray), I imagine myself stopping beside a mountain stream; surprised to find myself near Clearwater, Fla., and creep carefully up the mountain, and taking a careful look at the "American Ideal." As I finished my lunch and prepared to move on to the next stage, I heard that beautiful "American Fantasy."

7:20 p. m.—Stalked a robust male harrigan, his voice was most pleasing, heard from KMOX in "My Native Village."

7:30 p. m.—The woods seem full of a quartet singing "My Old Kentucky Home." Hear on various stations, WSM and KDKA. Finally find it at KDKA just in time to hear the band play "American Ideal." As I finished my lunch and prepared to move on to the next stage, I heard that beautiful "American Fantasy."

8:00 p. m.—Took a long hop to WOC, Davenport; the Vagabonds were there in full force doing "The Lovey and the Lovelies" with 19-piece orchestra. Very good.

8:15 p. m.—Drop in to New York where WJZ is entertaining for Montgomery Ward Co. The Riversiders are playing "Just a Memory." I find it is on the chain and walk on for something exclusive.

8:45 p. m.—Heard a thrift message on WLAZ said to have been written by a Georgian at Athens.

8:50 p. m.—One of my favorite hunting grounds, Pittsburgh, KDKA. Hear a good quartet singing "Old King Cole."

9:00 p. m.—Pausing for a smoke, can hear plenty game, a little noisy among the lower numbers. General Motors doing very well—worth listening for half an hour. Rather odd but WAAA, Dallas, brings it clearer than many nearer chain stations.

9:25 p. m.—Just glimpsed a wild looking specimen babbling in what at first sounded like a foreign tongue. I hear it more and it seems he has a radio station, KMTT, and he isn't so crazy after all. He sure is giving the chain stations an awful knock. The independents do not have a look-in. Do not hear all his stuff or where his station is located as it is so noisy on the lower numbers, too many stations crowded in.

9:35 p. m.—KFKB, of Milford, Kan., just heard some old-time fiddle music. A quartet is now strutting its stuff.

9:30—A fine lecture from WOC about China, rather interesting and very clear, but I must turn the chance over to the local hunter. Our own local WGST will be on the air from 9 to 10 o'clock tonight. The Georgia Tech station will broadcast a special musical program, sponsored by the music faculty. Lucy Cobb institute, Hugh Hodgson, noted organist and pianist, will play three piano solos from Mendelssohn, "Euler," the "Scherzo" and "Spinning Song." Miss Caroline Gray will play three piano solos and Miss Virginia Evans will sing three numbers. Miss Gray will play three violin solos, accompanied by Miss Mary Ann Mank. Then, as if that were not complete, we will hear three excellent numbers. Miss Gray and Miss Evans will offer a combination of piano and violin in three numbers. We're going to listen in. Are you?

We haven't much space left for Wednesday's highlights in the Dial Twister but I want you to know the pleasure a radio listener can have in the wilds of Georgia. And we want you to know that the fan who wrote the above log is confined to a bed after many trips to the hospital, and sanitariums. He hopes to be up and about sometime in the interim radio is one of the biggest boons this man could have. Reception, folks, with your help, we will make a determined fight for clearing up the mess, and with your help only can we put before our Georgia radio listeners in the congress and before the federal radio commission and supervisor of this district in Atlanta the real Atlanta radio, which, by the way, is one of the current best music sellers, according to The Bookman, "The Girl of My Dreams," "After We Kiss," all of which are among the best popular phonograph records. We have had his records, and enjoyed them. After hearing his voice over the radio there are two or three more records we must have. "Among My Souvenirs" is first on the list. And we suspect that, yesterday, a pipe or two was blown by him, with "My Souvenirs" on the reverse side, will be more than a phonograph record. He will be a real personality. The Columbia Phonograph company is making fast friends by introducing him to the radio public.
